

Course Description

Fundamentals of Sonar Systems will provide students with a comprehensive understanding of sonar technology and its applications in various marine environments. The course covers the principles of sound wave propagation, sonar system components, and data interpretation. Students will gain hands-on experience through practical exercises and simulations, ensuring they are well-prepared for professional roles in the maritime industry.

Total Hours

Max Participants
16

Cost per Student

Location
5th Floor, Room 505

