

What to do if a student tests positive for COVID-19

A student or employee who has tested positive or NMC receives notification from the community health department

The student or employee notifies either NMC Health Services, VP for Student Services or Dean of Students. Using the Red Flag alert is preferred.

The community health department will conduct contact tracing, determine the level of contact and the individual(s) who need to be notified of possible exposure

NMC Health Services will advise student and employee on the appropriate action based on level of contact

Students will be advised not to come to campus for 5 days since symptoms first appeared and 24 hours after the last medication

Students will be advised to contact the instructor in regard to class absence

NMC executive leadership will coordinate with the community health department to determine the level of communication required based on case-specific information, HIPAA and ClearAc

NMC Health Services will notify the NMC Director of Facilities of any impacted area(s) on campus for additional cleaning needed
